

Disney Winnie the Pooh

Pook-A-Looz Pencil Toppers

---

Take your favorite characters to school with you, and perch them atop your best pencil for a good view of your work! Your Pook-a-Looz are sure to make school a little more fun.

Instructions:

1. Print out the pencil toppers on regular paper or cardstock. Fold the first page in half along the dashed line away from you. Unfold the page and spread glue over one side of the page. Be sure to spread the glue over the blank side of the page. Refold the page and smooth out. Let the glue set for a few minutes.
2. Cut out all of the pencil toppers along the outer solid line.
3. Once the toppers are cut out, use a craft knife (or scissors) to carefully cut along the lines on each Pook-a-Looz. There are lines on each side of the character. Be sure to not cut beyond the lines, or you may separate your character from its bottom part.
4. Take a pencil or pen, and tightly wrap the bottom white strip of the pencil topper around the top of the pencil or pen, about a 1/2 inch from the top. Hold it firmly and tape the wrap to itself. To keep the topper from sliding down, wrap a piece of tape three or four times around the pencil or pen, just under the topper. Repeat these steps with the second page of pencil toppers. Your Pook-a-Looz are guaranteed to make homework and school a little more fun!

For more Disney crafts, recipes, and printables, visit family.com/Disney.

ABOUT THE MOVIE

Walt Disney Animation Studios returns to the Hundred Acre Wood with “Winnie the Pooh,” the first big-screen Pooh adventure from Disney animation in more than 35 years. With the charm, wit and whimsy of the original featurettes, this all-new movie reunites audiences with the philosophical “bear of very little brain” and friends Tigger, Rabbit, Piglet, Kanga, Roo—and last, but certainly not least, Eeyore, who has lost his tail. “Ever have one of those days where you just can’t win, Eeyore?” asks Pooh. Owl sends the whole gang on a wild quest to save Christopher Robin from an imaginary culprit. It turns out to be a very busy day for a bear who simply set out to find some honey. Inspired by three stories from A.A. Milne’s books in Disney’s classic, hand-drawn art style, “Winnie the Pooh” hits theaters in Europe and Latin America in Spring 2011; the U.S. release date is July 15, 2011.

1. Print out the pencil toppers on regular paper or cardstock. Fold the first page in half along the dashed line away from you. Unfold the page and spread glue over one side of the page. Be sure to spread the glue over the blank side of the page. Refold the page and smooth out. Let the glue set for a few minutes.
2. Cut out all of the pencil toppers along the outer solid line.
3. Once the toppers are cut out, use a craft knife (or scissors) to carefully cut along the lines on each Pook-a-Looz. There are lines on each side of the character. Be sure to not cut beyond the lines, or you may separate your character from its bottom part.
4. Take a pencil or pen, and tightly wrap the bottom white strip of the pencil topper around the top of the pencil or pen, about a 1/2 inch from the top. Hold it firmly and tape the wrap to itself. To keep the topper from sliding down, wrap a piece of tape three or four times around the pencil or pen, just under the topper. Repeat these steps with the second page of pencil toppers. Your Pook-a-Looz are sure to make homework and school a little more fun!

